

Nature's Art

Students collect items from the surrounding land (grasses, seeds, rocks, etc.) and place them in a visually-pleasing formation on individual pieces of stiff paper (Manila Tag). They name their work, take a picture of it and then return the items to the environment. The papers get reused for each group. The photos can later be shared in post TCDC follow-up sessions.

